

The illustrated bird
Tells her story right away
Picture with no frame
Explains it all in blue and grey

She's dying herself today
She could have just flown away

It's hidden in her eye
When there is so much to say
The red bird makes her smile
And she turns and walks away

She's dying to fly away
Nobody sees her prey
She's dying herself today
She could have just flown away
